MURDER MYSTERY NIGHT

What a fabulous evening !!! All who attended were in fancy dress which added to the ambience of the evening.

The scene was set by the narrator (Cowboy Dave) participants acted the scenes, which at times were hilarious, especially Mike & Rachel galloping away on Dotty the imaginary horse!!

Murders happened, intrigue & suspense, who did it ????

The casino was opened & the fun began, black jack , roulette, monies were changing hands , & people were getting richer & poorer by the minute.

Yea Ha !!! An evening enjoyed by all.

We are QBE competition Winners!!!

Essington RFC, nominated by Simon Fletcher, Sales and Development Manger in Product Protection, has won the internal QBE Rugby Pro competition. The judges were impressed by the hard work shown by Essington coaches and their efforts to introduce more young people to the game by working with neighbouring clubs and holding a host of community events. Essington RFC will train with rugby stars from Gloucester RFC - including Mike Tindall and James Simpson Daniel (on Wed 13th Apr)! In addition, the club will receive 1,000pounds worth of training equipment.

The competition received 150 entries in its inaugural year and was judged by a panel which included Paul Morgan, Editor of Rugby World; Corin Palmer, Head of Academies and Development at Premiership Rugby; Nicholas Mott, QBE European Operations Sponsorship Manager and Pete Graham QBE European Operations Underwriter. QBE Rugby Pro is part of QBEs Developing Talent programme.

Well done to all involved!!
