Candle Party

The candle party was supported by a large number of ladies; it was a most enjoyable night, some beautiful products.

Watch out for our next girlie party in Feb "VIE at home" make up demonstration

Bonfire Night

Went with a bang (sorry couldn't resist it). The evening was well attended, a fabulous night was had by all, the fireworks were really good and the food yummy, a very successful night

FROM THE PRESIDENTS PEN

THE WORLD'S GONE MAD

✘ We've been deducted 5 league points for playing a player who is registered to our club

The player was registered to the junior section and not the senior section, but nowhere do the RFU rules state that the player has to be registered in the senior section. To my mind the RFU's decision is immoral, unjust and probably illegal, but I don't think it's worth taking the RFU to court to find out.

✘ Snow and Ice causing fixtures to be cancelled before Christmas

No only have we lost the chance of playing games but also Bar takings at a crucial time in the season. Typically when things are going wrong everything goes wrong because the 2 matches were friendlies that the 1st team would have won to boost their confidence.

✓ Blakey getting married!

Just when you think nothing could surprise you. Ian Blake goes and gets married. For those of you not in Plymouth there are a couple of photographs to prove it really did happen.

✓ Full Social Calendar

Thanks to Jo, Sammie, the Nagging Committee and everyone else involved for the way they have boosted the social side of the club. Coming up are the Christmas Ball and the Murder Mystery – I look forward to seeing all of you at these events.
